Barry,

I honestly think it looks good as is. If we used an image of the notice rather than the text, would we lose the link to my email for requesting a copy? If so, I think this approach is definitely better.

I only have one suggestion. Since the list of document is separated from the page title by the text, I would add another title between the PN text and the documents to identify them as the Initial AR documents. As it is now, I don't think this is clear.

Other than that, I think it looks great! Again, thank you so much!

Drupal does not center text. Grr

I couldn't find an obvious place to link the PDF for the Public Notice, but have attached it.

Take a look at this page. It might benefit from an image of the Notice as the intro, with a note to view the AR docs here or request a copy.

I'm open to suggestions.

The sample pages you sent look great, Barry. I'm inclined to paste the full content from the AR notice as the intro copy on the page, rather than posting the notice PDF as one of these linked files where it might not be that noticeable. But I defer to Cynthia on what approach is most appropriate.

I may have been confused about the public notice. I thought it would be published separately from the AR. If not, all the text from the public notice should be included on the same page as the files, not just the text I pulled out. The only stipulation is that it not be "live" until tomorrow, when copies of the AR are available at the libraries.

If that doesn't make sense, let me know, and I can give you a call

Thanks all. Attention should be paid to the actual content for each document. Some of the PDF files are very large, and although I monitored the download to my PC, and the upload to WCMS for the web page, I did not go through viewing each page in each doc on the web.

Using the order of the index is fine with me.

I would suggest using this portion of the public notice as the intro copy:

The initial Administrative Record file (AR) for the Gold King Mine Release Site includes the documents considered or relied upon during the emergency removal action and continuing removal action at the Site. A final AR will be available for review and public comment with the publication of the Action Memorandum. Additional documents, including the comments received on the Administrative Record file and EPA's response to significant comments, may be added at a later date.

Thanks!

Cynthia

I defer to Cynthia on the order.

Yes, we want the collection posted just like the one for R&B.

Cynthia, do you think that the intro copy should just be taken directly from the notice?

Yes. Is this the order for the listing?

Do you want this document collection posted similarly to those on:

<https://wcms.epa.gov/goldkingmine/red-and-bonita-administrative-record> ??

... or another format that you will supply... Thanks

Hi, Christie.

Here is the index of the AR with the names of the documents. Is that what you need?

What text should we use to name each file on the Documents page?

Subject: Re: AR files for posting today - SharePoint - Descriptive text?

Is there an existing page, or text that should accompany any or all of these files?

They have numeric file names.

I have not started to look at the metadata for each, but it should have some descriptive information there.

I am only going to be here for another hour and a half. It's doubtful I can make much progress today.

Barry, do you want to start this tonight? 45 files are going to take a while.

Cathy, Cynthia is working on getting the Administrative Record files (I think there are 45 of them) to you, once they are good to go.

Our initial plan is to have Cynthia post them on Sharepoint, for you to download.

Cynthia, I invited Cathy to R8's Sharepoint site, but the request has to go to the site administrator for approval. If you know who that person is, could you please explain the reason we've requested access?

Web team – if anyone has a suggestion on the best way to do this, please speak up.

Thanks,

Christie
